

From: William A Guy
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/8/02 12:44am
Subject: Microsoft is a monopoly. As a monopoly, Microsoft has crippled the Microsoft is a monopoly. As a monopoly, Microsoft has crippled the computer industry as a whole by stifling innovation and competition in that industry. Microsoft needs to be broken into three companies, one, operating system, two, programs and three, internet. As a Microsoft customer, if I had a real choice, I would never use a Microsoft product again. If you investigate the new features of the new Microsoft XP operating system, this software is a violation of fair business practices and should not be allowed to be marketed. This is Microsoft's way of tumbing its nose at the judicial system.

Rod Guy